I am an international Student who is driven to make college life exciting and full of life for our members. When I first came to Langara, I was blown away by the warm welcome that I received from the students and instructors that it inspired me to pay it forward to future new comers to this college. I became involved by volunteering for several events such as student orientation day and Welcome day for LSU. With the experience that I had, made me see that Langara is truly a welcoming environment and I would love to take it beyond that. As a VP External I hope to organize many exciting events where students will be able to meet each other and make new friends.
